

Dear Perscomma,

Please read below an e-mail from one of our young ones currently studying at St. Peter's.

This email could have benefited from some editorial editing before publishing, but it would have lost its authenticity in doing so. Instead, we have hidden the identity of the writer who is currently a student at Persco. This message was received just one day after the Webchief discussed the need to raise funds for completing the Dinning Hall and other projects at the school with the National Executives and the London branch of Old Boys Association. The current student's timely message says it all and so we invite you, a product of Persco, to read on and give generously.
